INTRODUCTORY RITES

Within your will, O Lord, all things are established, and there is none that can resist your will.
For you have made all things, the heaven and the earth,
and all that is held within the circle of heaven;
you are the Lord of all.

SUNDAY HOLY MASS PRAYER

Almighty ever-living God, who in the abundance of your kindness surpass the merits and the desires of those who entreat you,
pour out your mercy upon us
to pardon what conscience dreads
and to give what prayer does not dare to ask.
Through our Lord Jesus Christ, your Son, who lives and reigns with you in the unity of the Holy Spirit,
God, for ever and ever. Amen.

SELF REFLECTION: MARRIAGE COMMITMENT

This Sunday's Gospel, Mark 10:2-14, Jesus addresses the topic of divorce and the sanctity of marriage. This passage invites self-reflection on the nature of relationships and commitments we make. The importance of nurturing love and respect within our partnerships.

1. How do I demonstrate commitment in my relationship?
2. When faced with challenges in relationships, do I seek reconciliation or just find it easier to walk away?
3. What actions can I take to foster a more loving and supporting environment?

Dear Lord,

LOVE KINDNESS
RESPECT FORGIVENESS

Thank you for the gift of relationships and the sacredness of marriage. Help me to honour my commitments with love and respect. Grant me the wisdom to nurture unity and heal any wounds within my heart. May I reflect Your love in all my interactions. Amen.

First Reading: Genesis 2:18-24 (JB)

A reading from the book of Genesis

They were two in one flesh.

The Lord God said, 'It is not good that the man should be alone. I will make him a helpmate.' So from the soil the Lord God fashioned all the wild beasts and all the birds of heaven. These he brought to the man to see what he would call them; each one was to bear the name the man would give it. The man gave names to all the cattle, all the birds of heaven and all the wild beasts. But no helpmate suitable for man was found for him. So the Lord God made the man fall into a deep sleep. And while he slept, he took one of his ribs and enclosed it in flesh. The Lord God built the rib he had taken from the man into a woman, and brought her to the man. The man exclaimed: 'This at last is bone from my bones and flesh from my flesh! This is to be called woman, for this was taken from man.'

This is why a man leaves his father and mother and joins himself to his wife, and they become one body.

The word of the Lord.
Thanks be to God.

Responsorial Psalm:

R. May the Lord bless us all the days of our lives.

Second Reading: Hebrews 2:9-11 (JB)

A reading from the letter to the Hebrews

He who sanctifies, and those who are sanctified have one origin.

We see in Jesus one who was for a short while made lower than the angels and is now crowned with glory and splendour because he submitted to death; by God's grace he had to experience death for all mankind.

As it was his purpose to bring a great many of his sons into glory, it was appropriate that God, for whom everything exists and through whom everything exists, should make perfect, through suffering, the leader who would take them to their salvation. For the one who sanctifies, and the ones who are sanctified, are of the same stock; that is why he openly calls them brothers.

The word of the Lord.
Thanks be to God.

Gospel Acclamation

Alleluia, alleluia!
If we love one another,
God will live in us in perfect love.
Alleluia!

GOSPEL: Mark 10:2-16 (JB)

A reading from the holy Gospel according to Mark

What God has joined together, no one must divide.

Some Pharisees approached Jesus and asked, 'Is it against the law for a man to divorce his wife?' They were testing him. He answered them, 'What did Moses command you?' 'Moses allowed us' they said 'to draw up a writ of dismissal and so to divorce.' Then Jesus said to them, 'It was because you were so unteachable that he wrote this commandment for you. But from the beginning of creation God made them male and female. This is why a man must leave father and mother, and the two become one body. They are no longer two, therefore, but one body. So then, what God has united, man must not divide.' Back in the house the disciples questioned him again about this, and he said to them. 'The man who divorces his wife and marries another is guilty of adultery against her. And if a woman divorces her husband and marries another she is guilty of adultery too.'

People were bringing little children to him, for him to touch them. The disciples turned them away, but when Jesus saw this he was indignant and said to them, 'Let the little children come to me; do not stop them; for it is to such as these that the kingdom of God belongs. I tell you solemnly, anyone who does not welcome the kingdom of God like a little child will never enter it.' Then he put his arms round them, laid his hands on them and gave them his blessing.

The Gospel of the Lord.
Praise to you, Lord Jesus Christ.

GOSPEL REFLECTION

Sunday, October 6

Genesis 2:18-24 / Psalm 128:1-6 / Hebrews 2:9-11 / Mark 10:2-16

It is not good for the man to be alone. (Genesis 2:18)

This almost sounds like it could be the punch line of a joke about men needing the gentle guidance of women. But this reading is not just about men. And while it's often used in the context of marriage, it's not just about marriage. It applies to all of us, married or single, male or female. We need each other. We have been made in the image and likeness of our triune God, who is a communion of persons. That means we need upbuilding relationships with other people. It is simply "not good" for us to be alone (Genesis 2:18).

Notice that even after Adam named all the animals, none was found to be "the suitable partner for man" (Genesis 2:20). That's because we can only truly have "partnership" with other human beings created in God's image and likeness. And that communion, like the life of the Trinity, usually involves the giving of ourselves. The Sacrament of Marriage is a powerful sign of that love. But it's also on display in the relationship between good friends, in volunteers who work together to serve the poor, or in priests or religious sisters and brothers who support one another in the faith.

It's not automatic, though. No one experiences perfect communion with other people in this life; we have to work on our relationships. We have to keep inviting Jesus into them. So today, take the next step toward the communion that God made you for. Pray for good friendships to come into your life. Pray, too, that God would help you deepen the relationships you do have. Make it a priority to spend time with them. Get to know the people you're serving with in your parish. Maybe you could reach out to someone who seems alone.

Even when you feel lonely, know that you're never alone. The One who made you for something more is always with you. Trust that he will build the communion he desires for you.

"Lord, thank you that you have made me for community, just like you."

SAINT OF THE WEEK

Saint John XXIII, Pope

Feast Day: October 11

1881 - 1963

Patron Saint of papal delegates

Canonized by Pope Francis on April 27, 2014

Quote:

Since the Lord chose me, unworthy as I am, for this great service, I feel I have no longer any special ties in this life, no family, no earthly country or nation, nor any particular preferences with regard to studies or projects, even good ones. Now, more than ever, I see myself only as the humble and unworthy "servant of God and servant of the servants of God." The whole world is my family. This sense of belonging to everyone must give character and vigour to my mind, my heart and my actions. ~Saint John XXIII, journal entry

Angelo Giuseppe Roncalli was born in Sotto il Monte, a small village in the province of Bergamo, Italy. His large family of tenant farmers worked in vineyards and cornfields and tended cattle. After eight years at a high school seminary in Bergamo, Angelo took his brother's place and performed one year of military service. Next in Rome, he earned a doctorate in theology at the Apollinaris Seminary. Ordained on August 10, 1904, he completed studies in canon law the next year.

Father Roncalli's work as a priest included serving as the Bishop of Bergamo's secretary and teaching in the Bergamo seminary. He took over the pastoral care of the Catholic Action movement that involved the laity in the Church's and community's social needs. During World War I, he served in the Italian army as a medic and then a chaplain. In 1921, Pope Benedict XV called him to Rome where he led the Italian portion of the Propagation of the Faith. In 1925, Pope Pius XI named him a bishop and assigned him as the Apostolic Visitor to Bulgaria. He chose as his episcopal motto, Oboedientia et Pax (Obedience and Peace), summarizing his ministry for the rest of his life.

As bishop, he initiated dialogue with other faiths. In 2011, the State of Israel posthumously honored him as "Righteous Among the Nations" for helping several thousand Jews escape the Holocaust by providing them with forged papers in order to get them to Palestine. In 1944, Pope Pius XII appointed Bishop Roncalli as Apostolic Nuncio to France, where he assisted with the freed prisoners of war and helped France rebuild after a four-year occupation. His priestly ministry shone as he helped the French renew their faith after horrible national suffering. He was named a cardinal in 1953 and subsequently made Patriarch of Venice, where he planned to spend the rest of his life.

When Pope Pius XII died in 1958, seventy-seven-year-old Cardinal Roncalli was elected pope and took his father's name, Giovanni, making him Pope Giovanni (John) XXIII. He was called the "good pope" because of his humble, kind, and active papacy. He visited the sick and imprisoned, saw the world as his family, and made profound changes within the Church and world.

During his four-and-a-half years as pope, John XXIII issued eight encyclicals. Mater et magistra (Mother and Teacher) addressed the Church's role in social progress in a time of rapid technological change and increasing social and economic inequality. Pacem in terris (Peace on Earth) dealt with human dignity, rights, and responsibilities of all peoples and nations to seek peace and harmony. He convened the Diocese of Rome's first Synod and began to revise the Code of Canon Law.

The greatest surprise during his papacy came on January 25, 1959, while making a pastoral visit to the Basilica of St. Paul Outside the Walls, where he announced the twenty-third Ecumenical Council, later known as Vatican II. Though Pope John XXIII died before its conclusion, he is credited for the inspiration and instigation of the process that changed the Church in ways never seen before. Pope Francis canonized Pope John XXIII and Pope John Paul II in 2014. Their shared canonization illustrates that Saint John XXIII began the Council and Saint John Paul II implemented it.

Saint John XXIII, you were raised in humble conditions and formed well in the faith. God used you in powerful ways that have had a profound effect upon the Church and world. Please pray that I will always remain faithful to God's will so that He can use me in the ways He chooses. Saint John XXIII, pray for me. Jesus, I trust in You.

INTERNATIONAL TEACHERS' DAY OCTOBER 5

Consider the words of Proverbs 22:6: "Train children in the right way, and when old, they will not stray."

Let us recognise and support the tireless efforts of our teachers. Engage with them, appreciate their hard work, and encourage your children to respect and value their educators. A simple "thank you" or a kind gesture can go a long way in uplifting their spirits.

To our teachers, know that you are seen and appreciated. Your patience and dedication to your students do not go unnoticed. You are the beacons of light in our children's lives, guiding them through the storms of uncertainty and leading them to the shores of knowledge and wisdom.

May God bless our teachers and grant them the strength and wisdom to continue their invaluable work. Together, as families and communities, let us support and cherish these remarkable individuals who dedicate their lives to educating and inspiring our future generations.
