Animator's Report Calling all Catholics.

Your church wants to hear your voice.

Plenary council 2020. Some Questions:

1. Priestly celibacy. Should married men be ordained?
2. Should a new model of priesthood be investigated for Australia?

1. The national council of priests, the body representing all of the priests in Australia, has announced that it will make a submission to the plenary council to examine all aspects of the Catholic priesthood including celibacy.

Celibacy in the Catholic Church means that priests are not allowed to marry and that married men may not be ordained as priests. This is a rule of church discipline and is not a matter of dogma. The rule only applies in the Latin or Western Church.

Priests in the Eastern rite of the Church are allowed to be married.

In addition exceptions are made in the Western rite for Anglican priests who convert to Catholicism.

An example of this is Father Fleming the founding President of Campion College in Toongabbie.

The celibacy rule in the West is believed to date from the 12th century. Until then priests and bishops were married though some chose celibacy.

St Peter the first Pope was married( Matthew 8:14-15).

St Paul, though unmarried himself, pointed out the Apostles were married(1 Corinthians 9:5).

The Royal Commission into Sexual Abuse recommended the Australian Bishops request the Holy See to re examine this rule. The Bishops have agreed to do so.

Sooner or later the Vatican will have to address this problem.

The Orthodox Churches all allow married men to be ordained as priests but require Bishops to be celibate.

One of the reasons given for the decline in vocations is the celibacy rule.

What is your view?

2. In Australia there has been a massive decline in priestly vocations. Over 50 of all parish clergy have been brought in from overseas.

Those born and trained in Australia are overwhelmingly elderly. Within 5 years there will be only 400 active Australian born priests . This is a problem for Western countries and Latin America and has contributed to the enormous decline in the Church. Only in Asia and Africa are there sufficient local priests.

The traditional system has not just failed, it has collapsed.

The National Council has indicated it supports an end to the importation of priests and that Australia should develop an alternative ministerial model. It questions the present policy of the Bishops to simply continue to import overseas trained priests.

The Brazilian Church, (Brazil is officially the worlds largest Catholic country but where millions have converted to evangelical Protestantism,) is working with the Holy See to develop an alternative of Christian Elders. These are married, have secular jobs and are recognised as local community leaders. They are community priests modelled on the Elders of the Early Church.( 1 Timothy 5:17-22.)

Again, what is your view? Would this be a solution for Australia?

Please consider these questions as well as any other thoughts you may have.

You can submit them now or at the Parish Gathering on Saturday 17 November at 2.30 pm.

Please remember the Plenary Council in your prayers.

What is spiritual direction? In spiritual direction you reflect deeply on the experiences of your daily life, your loves, hurts, dreams, joys and fears.

Gradually, as you contemplate, you may begin to discover how God's spirit is moving in your life and that God has been waiting for you to see this closer relationship. Spiritual direction is really not about being directed, nor is it therapy, or counselling. Rather, it is very much about being encouraged to draw closer to God whether that be in your prayer life, relationships, in nature, or in the events of your life. The privilege and responsibility of a spiritual director is to journey with you, in one on one conversations, as you deepen your relationship with God. What is shared is held in confidence. A meeting time is agreed upon, usually once a month, for an hour. A small donation is appreciated and this will be given to the parish.

If you are interested in participating in spiritual direction please call Robyn Wild 0410454650
