Prayer of Faith

Father, I abandon myself into
Your hands;
Do with me whatever You will.
Whatever You may do,
I thank You.
I am ready for all,
I accept all.
Let only Your will be done in me.
And in all Your creatures.
I wish no more than this, O Lord.
Into Your hands I commend
my spirit;
I offer it to You, Lord,
so I need to give myself
and surrender into
Your hands,
without reserve and with
boundless confidence.
For You are my Father.
Amen.

Jesus said to the crowds, 'This is what the kingdom of God is like. A man throws seed on the land. Night and day, while he sleeps, when he is awake, the seed is sprouting and growing.'

Mark 4:26-27

Parish Bulletin – Term 2, Week 7

A Short but Eventful Week at Mater Maria College

This week was shorter due to the King's Birthday on Monday, giving students and staff a long weekend to relax.

On Tuesday, students visited St Martins Catholic Primary School in Davidson for the annual Jarjum Initiative, engaging with Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander cultures.

Our top students from Years 7-10 competed in the All Schools Touch Football Gala Day in Milperra, aiming for a spot in the State Final against other southern Metropolitan schools.

Years 7 and 8 also participated in and refereed the Broken Bay U13 Soccer Day, showcasing their skills in a representative soccer tournament against other schools in the Broken Bay Diocese.

The highlight of the week was Mater Maria Catholic College's Feast Day, featuring our annual Mater Day Mass led by local Fathers and our Year 12 Prefects. The celebration included beautiful music from students of all year groups and a community BBQ lunch. Festivities also featured the unique Mater-themed 'Basket Debate'.

Over twenty students from Years 9 and 10 are taking part in the Alpha for Youth Catholic Faith Formation Program this term, enhancing their spiritual growth and understanding of the Catholic faith.

Applications for Year 7 are now open for 2027 and 2028. There is a waitlist for Year 6 to Year 7 transitions in 2025 and 2026, and for all other year groups in 2024. For more information or to apply, please visit Mater Maria Enrolments: <https://matermaria.nsw.edu.au/enrolments/>.

Despite being a four-day week, it was vibrant and full of achievements, with students embracing numerous growth and learning opportunities.

FAITH AT HOME | Remember the mustard seed, trust the manna

We're flying by the seat of our pants. School is back in swing. Work is back to busy-as-usual. The future feels uncertain depending on the hour or the headlines. It's hard to know where to place our hope or trust these days.

Lately I've been carrying two Scripture stories with me: the mustard seed and the manna.

Jesus told the provocative parable of the mustard seed to catch the attention of those who heard His words (Matthew 13:31-32). Who would plant a weed? How could God's kingdom be compared to the smallest seed?

God gave manna to feed the Israelites in the wilderness, raining down bread each morning upon the hungry, grumbling people (Exodus 16). How could flakes feed people for 40 years? Why wouldn't God let them stockpile the goodness instead of gathering each day?

Both stories challenge me to ask each day how I'm living and locating myself (and my family) within God's plan of providence. Am I operating out of a theology of scarcity or a theology of abundance? Will God truly provide, or is it up to me in the end?

The parable of the mustard seed teaches us to trust that God can take anything small — the grain of an idea or the seed of a dream — and grow it into something great. Any work we do for the kingdom of God can become a home big enough for many to come and dwell within it, a scraggly weed of hope that stretches wide, strong branches into the sky.

The story of manna reminds us how God gives new mercies each morning and bread for today. We are invited to believe that enough will be enough and hoarding is never holy. God provides for all, and we're called to work together to make sure that everyone can survive, even thrive.

What about your own manna or mustard seed?

Trusting the manna is not just about working hard. Yes, you have to get out and gather what God gives, but you also have to honor the Sabbath and rest. You must not keep more than you need. God is waiting to pour out graces, often through unexpected means if you open your hands to receive.

Your manna may be the gift of time when you feel pressed or stressed by the demands of your life. It may be attention when you are pulled in multiple directions, or energy when you are tired or burnt out. God's manna may be hope when the world's suffering weighs heavy or compassion when people are acting unlovable.

On the other hand, your mustard seed may be the hope of a new child, the dream of better work, the desire for a home or the longing for community. It may be a gift you have to offer or an ability you've been given to share. Whatever small seed you pray would blossom into full bloom.

Remembering the mustard seed beckons us to see what is easy to overlook and to trust in what takes time to grow. Even the smallest seed can become a mighty tree, just as our acts of love and service allow others to experience God's abundance.

The Exodus story invites us to invert our instincts and trust that whatever God gives will be enough. Jesus' parable reminds us that what the world calls unreasonable is how God loves to work: starting from the least and growing into the greatest, making room enough for all who seek a home in the kingdom.

Wherever this winter leads, take these two truths with you — and see what God is waiting to grow: Remember the mustard seed. Trust the manna.

The Living Word

Entrance Antiphon

Psalm 26:7,9

O Lord, hear my voice, for I have called to you; be my help.
Do not abandon or forsake me, O God, my Saviour!

First Reading

Ezekiel 17:22-24

A reading from the prophet Ezekiel
I have made the small tree great.

The Lord says this:

'From the top of the cedar,
from the highest branch I will take a shoot
and plant it myself on a very high mountain.

I will plant it on the high mountain of Israel.

It will sprout branches and bear fruit,
and become a noble cedar.

Every kind of bird will live beneath it,
every winged creature rest in the shade of its branches.

And every tree of the field will learn that I, the Lord, am the one who stunts tall trees and makes the low ones grow, who withers green trees and makes the withered green.

I, the Lord, have spoken, and I will do it.'

The word of the Lord

Responsorial Psalm

Ps 91:2-3. 13-16. R. see v.2

(R.) Lord, it is good to give thanks to you.

It is good to give thanks to the Lord to make music to your name, O Most High, to proclaim your love in the morning and your truth in the watches of the night. (R.)

The just will flourish like the palm-tree and grow like a Lebanon cedar. (R.)

Planted in the house of the Lord they will flourish in the courts of our God, still bearing fruit when they are old, still full of sap, still green, to proclaim that the Lord is just. In him, my rock, there is no wrong. (R.)

Second Reading

2 Corinthians 5:6-10

A reading from the second letter of St Paul to the Corinthians

Whether we are living in the body or exiled from it, we are intent on pleasing the Lord.

We are always full of confidence when we remember that to live in the body means to be exiled from the Lord, going as we do by faith and not by sight – we are full of confidence, I say, and actually want to be exiled from the body and make our home with the Lord. Whether we are living in the body or exiled from it, we are intent on pleasing him. For all the truth about us will be brought out in the law court of Christ, and each of us will get what he deserves for the things he did in the body, good or bad.

The word of the Lord.

Gospel Acclamation

John 12:31. 32

Alleluia, alleluia!

The seed is the word of God, Christ is the sower; all who come to him will live for ever.

Alleluia!

Gospel

Mark 4:26-34

A reading from the holy Gospel according to Mark

The mustard seed, the smallest of all the seeds, grows into the biggest shrub of all.

Jesus said to the crowds, 'This is what the kingdom of God is like. A man throws seed on the land. Night and day, while he sleeps, when he is awake, the seed is sprouting and growing; how, he does not know. Of its own accord the land produces first the shoot, then the ear, then the full grain in the ear. And when the crop is ready, he loses no time; he starts to reap because the harvest has come.'

He also said, 'What can we say the kingdom of God is like? What parable can we find for it? It is like a mustard seed which at the time of its sowing in the soil is the smallest of all the seeds on earth; yet once it is sown it grows into the biggest shrub of them all and puts out big branches so that the birds of the air can shelter in its shade.'

Using many parables like these, he spoke the word to them, so far as they were capable of understanding it. He would not speak to them except in parables, but he explained everything to his disciples when they were alone.

The Gospel of the Lord

Communion Antiphon

Psalm 26:4

There is one thing I ask of the Lord, only this do I seek: to live in the house of the Lord all the days of my life.

REFLECTION

by Diane Bergant

The readings today remind us that poetic imagery is an apt way of describing the mysterious presence of God in our midst. The cedar began as a seedling that takes years to grow into a magnificent tree.

The same is true of the mustard tree. It too requires time to develop its trunk and branches. The development of moral integrity in a human being is just as gradual. Rooted in God, it flourishes in God's presence and it produces fruit even into old age. Although God is present in all things, sustaining them and allowing them to follow their natural courses, God really transcends all things.

Metaphorical language may be the best means for speaking about God and the things of God. It enables us to live in the tension that both reveals something about God and conceals God's real nature.

The reign of God also begins in very ordinary circumstances, and it matures gradually until it has spread itself far and wide. Although the mystery of the reign of God unfolds within human history, we need eyes of faith to recognise it. Like the cedar and the mustard seed, it grows within the concreteness of human experience. Just as the life force that thrusts the branches of the trees further and further out cannot itself be seen, so the reign of God is mysterious, even incomprehensible. Still, it is there, inviting us, urging us to move forward, transforming our world.
