REAL FOOD

THE BODY AND BLOOD OF CHRIST

This Sunday, we mark the feast of Corpus Christi, or as it is known in English, "The Most Holy Body and Blood of Christ." It celebrates the central meaning and reality of the Eucharist, the Blessed Sacrament.

It's worth asking ourselves: How will we observe it this year? How will we receive the Eucharist? Will we do anything different?

Most of us will do as we always do: wait for the usher to stop by the pew, then at the appointed time, shuffle up to take the host in hand from the priest or deacon or Extraordinary Minister of Holy Communion. Some people will grab it. A priest I know refers to these as "the Body Snatchers." Some people will put out one hand like they're waiting for someone to give them their car keys. Others will quickly get it over with and then head out the door to be the first out of the parking lot.

I see it week after week. We take it for granted, this moment in the Mass.

We shouldn't. We can't.

What are we receiving? Today, of all days, stop and look.

And then, listen.

Listen, really listen, to the words spoken to us before we receive communion:

The Body of Christ.

And let that sink in.

This is the Body of Christ.

Consider what you will hold in your hand. Feel the weight of it. The host, that small sliver of bread, is almost weightless, like a scrap of paper.

But it isn't. Not really.

This is the Body of Christ. It carries the

MY FLESH IS REAL FOOD AND MY BLOOD IS REAL DRINK.

JOHNN 6:51-58

weight of the world.

We hold in our hands the one who walked on water.

We cradle the one who calmed the storm.

Here is the Son of God.

Here is the one who gave sight to the blind, and raised the dead, and fed the hungry.

This day, he feeds all of us who are hungry once again.

He gave himself to us on the cross. And he gives us himself again in the Eucharist, as the supreme gift to a suffering and hungry world.

This is the Body of Christ.

It is overwhelming to contemplate. We are not worthy—which is why we pray, at every Mass, "I am not worthy...speak but the word and my soul will be healed."

Christ's great mission to a broken world was to help heal its wounds, by becoming like us, and taking on wounded flesh himself. It is good to remember that the very word "host" is derived from the Latin, hostia, which means "victim."

Incredibly, we take into ourselves, in that object no bigger than a coin, the saving victim—but one who is not only a victim, but a victor. This is the one who conquered death.

Look at what you hold in your hand. Look at The One you hold in your hand.

This is the Body of Christ.

The body that was broken and bruised for us, that was beaten and bled for us, that was stripped for us.

This is the one who wept for us, who died for us and who rose for us.

The psalm tells us: "Taste and see the goodness of the Lord." Taste that small piece of bread and we taste compassion, and mercy, and tenderness, and love.

This is the goodness of the Lord.

This is the Body of Christ.

This afternoon, we will proclaim that to the world in a procession around the neighborhood. We will sing hymns of praise and show those around us what we believe, what we cherish, what we venerate, this "gift of finest wheat" that satisfies our hungry hearts.

This is the Body of Christ.

It's true that we mark this feast just once a year. But we actually celebrate this gift every time we go to Mass. Every time we receive the Eucharist, we celebrate Corpus Christi, becoming living tabernacles, human monstrances, carrying Christ into the world in our own individual Eucharistic processions. Every day, we are called to bear witness to that—and to do what the deacon or priest announces at the end of Mass, "glorifying the Lord with our lives."

Do we understand that?

Look around you. We are tabernacles of our Lord, living vessels of our savior, witnesses to his life and love.

How do we show that to the world?

How do we reflect what we receive?

This Sunday, let us stop and look and listen. Consider more deeply what happens when you approach for communion. Behold a miracle and mystery, and the greatest ongoing gift.

It's not just a wafer. It's not just a slice of bread.

This is our hope. This is our salvation. This is the one who gave his all for all of us.

This is the Body of Christ.

Parishioners are asked to understand that as their family members would like to be present priority will be given to them for seating allocation at that Mass.

A HUGE 'THANK YOU' TO FLOORING 4U, EAST GOSFORD

We are so grateful to Mek & Kirsty of Flooring 4U [next to Mesa Ministry Café] for their extremely generous donation of carpet and their time laying it at the Parish Office last week. It was an amazing boon to us and on top of the work that they did in procuring and laying the carpet in the church, we are overwhelmed by their generosity and skills!

Again, we highly recommend their company to you, should you need any flooring in your home.

We also thank John Malicki and Ron Begg for their furniture moving skills during the chaos that was the Parish Office, this past week!

WE ALSO THANK

PAUL HUSSEIN AND VICTOR CAMILLERI:

Last Monday, Paul and Victor laid pavers in the area [which was just dirt] under the bins. The requirement to seal this area was long overdue. Postponed due to the cost of contractors to concrete it. Quotes to complete the job were over a thousand dollars.

The skills and time of Paul and Victor, saving the parish much of this money. A very big thank you to you both!

MESSAGE FROM BISHOP ANTHONY REGARDING THE FEAST OF CORPUS CHRISTI

Most Rev Anthony Randazzo Bishop of Broken
9 June 2020

My dear brothers and sisters in Christ,

Food satisfies physical hunger. However, sharing a meal is more than just satisfying physical hunger. It is also satisfying the deeper human need of fellowship and welcome, solidarity and hospitality. It facilitates interpersonal exchange. It would be true to say that meal sharing promotes significant human values. It creates and reveals unity among people. Jesus knew this well and so it is no surprise that he chose a meal with his friends to give us the Eucharist. This Sunday, we commemorate the great feast of Corpus Christi. It is one moment in our liturgical year when we spend particular time and energy venerating the Body and Blood of Jesus. There are two dimensions to our remembering. The first dimension is the Last Supper that Jesus shared with his Twelve Apostles. In this meal, he took bread, blessed it, broke the bread, and gave it to his disciples saying, "This is my body". Likewise, he took a cup of wine saying, "This is my blood". When he had finished, he instructed, "Do this in memory of me". (cf 1Corinthians 11:23-26) The second dimension of our remembering is Jesus' sacrificial death on the Cross. At the Last Supper, Jesus foretold his death on the Cross. At the Supper the bread became His body and the wine became His blood. On the Cross, His body was broken and His blood was poured out. On the Cross, Jesus is the sacrificial lamb, who dies for our sins (cf Isaiah 53:7). Every time we celebrate the Eucharist, this holy meal re-presents the sacrifice of the Cross. The significance is clear: there is a real physical re-presenting of Christ. His physical body is presented again. He is present in truth – as real flesh and real blood (cf Catechism of the Catholic Church n.1366). The Eucharist is an experience of personal, spiritual fellowship with Christ. At the same time, it is the great action of the gathering into one body all who are redeemed in Christ through His sacrifice on the Cross. The Eucharist is real. It is the greatest gift because Jesus Himself is really present. He is food for our journey and forgiveness for our sins. I would like to encourage you this week to take some time to think and pray about your Eucharistic life. Be inspired by Saint Paul in your life of holiness as he reminds us, "you are the body of Christ, and each one of you is a part of it" (1Corinthians 12:27). Might I also invite you to consider your mission in the Body of Christ, the Church. What gifts has God given you, and how might you exercise those gifts for the common good and for the building up of the Kingdom of God? With every blessing in the Lord, +Anthony

WORLD ELDER ABUSE AWARENESS DAY: JUNE 15

SAFEGUARD OLDER PERSONS DURING COVID-19 AND BEYOND

Although all age groups are at risk of contracting COVID-19, older persons are at a significantly higher risk of mortality and severe disease following infection, with those over 80 years old dying at five times the average rate. An estimated 66% of people aged 70 and over have at least one underlying condition, placing them at increased risk of severe impact from COVID-19.

Older persons may also face age discrimination in decisions on medical care, triage, and life-saving therapies. Global inequalities mean that, already pre-COVID-19, as many as half of older persons in some developing countries did not have access to essential health services. The pandemic may also lead to a scaling back of critical services unrelated to COVID-19, further increasing risks to the lives of older persons.

Some older people face additional vulnerabilities at this time. The virus is not just threatening the lives and safety of older persons, it is also threatening their social networks, their access to health services, their jobs and their pensions.

"No person, young or old, is expendable", spelled out UN Secretary-General António Guterres in a video message to launch a policy brief on older persons last month. The impact on health and long-term care services for older persons must recognize and confront the particular challenges they face, including their ability to access medical treatment and care.

"Older people have the same rights to life and health as everyone else," underscored the UN chief. "Difficult decisions around life-saving medical care must respect the human rights and dignity of all." Read more on:

CF. PS 80:17

He fed them with the finest wheat and satisfied them with honey from the rock.

FIRST READING

DT 8:2-3. 14-16

A reading from the book of Deuteronomy

He gave you food which you and your ancestors did not know.

Moses said to the people: 'Remember how the Lord your God led you for forty years in the wilderness, to humble you, to test you and know your inmost heart – whether you would keep his commandments or not. He humbled you, he made you feel hunger, he fed you with manna which neither you nor your fathers had known, to make you understand that man does not live on bread alone but that man lives on everything that comes from the mouth of the Lord.

'Do not then forget the Lord your God who brought you out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of slavery: who guided you through this vast and dreadful wilderness, a land of fiery serpents, scorpions, thirst; who in this waterless place brought you water from the hardest rock; who in this wilderness fed you with manna that your fathers had not known.'

The word of the Lord

RESPONSORIAL PSALM

PS 147:12-15. 19-20. R. V.12

(R.) Praise the Lord, Jerusalem.

O praise the Lord, Jerusalem!

Zion, praise your God!

He has strengthened the bars of your gates, he has blessed the children within you.

(R.) Praise the Lord, Jerusalem.

He has established peace on your borders, he feeds you with finest wheat.

He sends out his word to the earth and swiftly runs his command.

(R.) Praise the Lord, Jerusalem.

He makes his word known to Jacob, to Israel his laws and decrees.

He has not dealt thus with other nations; he has not taught them his decrees.

(R.) Praise the Lord, Jerusalem.

SECOND READING

1 COR 10:16-17

A reading from the first letter of St Paul to the Corinthians

Though we are many, we form a single body because we share this one loaf.

The blessing-cup that we bless is a communion with the blood of Christ, and the bread that we break is a communion with the body of Christ. The fact that there is only one loaf means that, though there are many of us, we form a single body because we all have a share in this one loaf.

The word of the Lord

SEQUENCE

Sing forth, O Zion, sweetly sing
The praises of thy Shepherd-King,
In hymns and canticles divine;
Dare all thou canst, thou hast no song
Worthy his praises to prolong,
So far surpassing powers like thine.
Today no theme of common praise
Forms the sweet burden of thy lays –
The living, life-dispensing food –
That food which at the sacred board
Unto the brethren twelve our Lord
His parting legacy bestowed.
Then be the anthem clear and strong,
Thy fullest note, thy sweetest song,
The very music of the breast:
For now shines forth the day sublime
That brings remembrance of the time
When Jesus first his table blessed.
Within our new King's banquet-hall
They meet to keep the festival
That closed the ancient paschal rite:
The old is by the new replaced;
The substance hath the shadow chased;
And rising day dispels the night.
Christ willed what he himself had done
Should be renewed while time should run,
In memory of his parting hour:
Thus, tutored in his school divine,
We consecrate the bread and wine;
And lo – a Host of saving power.
This faith to Christian men is given –
Bread is made flesh by words from heaven:
Into his blood the wine is turned:
What though it baffles nature's powers
Of sense and sight? This faith of ours
Proves more than nature e'er discerned.
Concealed beneath the two-fold sign,
Meet symbols of the gifts divine,
There lie the mysteries adored:
The living body is our food;
Our drink the ever-precious blood;
In each, one undivided Lord.
Not he that eateth it divides
The sacred food, which whole abides
Unbroken still, nor knows decay;
Be one, or be a thousand fed,
They eat alike that living bread
Which, still received, ne'er wastes away.
The good, the guilty share therein,
With sure increase of grace or sin,
The ghostly life, or ghostly death:
Death to the guilty; to the good
Immortal life. See how one food
Man's joy or woe accomplisheth.
We break the Sacrament; but bold
And firm thy faith shall keep its hold;
Deem not the whole doth more enfold
Than in the fractured part resides:
Deem not that Christ doth broken lie;
'Tis but the sign that meets the eye;
The hidden deep reality
In all its fullness still abides.
Behold the bread of angels, sent
For pilgrims in their banishment,
The bread for God's true children meant,
That may not unto dogs be given:
Oft in the olden types foreshadowed;
In Isaac on the altar bowed,
And in the ancient paschal food,
And in the manna sent from heaven.
Come then, good shepherd, bread divine,
Still show to us thy mercy sign;
Oh, feed us still, still keep us thine;
So may we see thy glories shine
In fields of immortality;
O thou, the wisest, mightiest, best,
Our present food, our future rest,
Come, make us each thy chosen guest,
Co-heirs of thine, and comrades blest
With saints whose dwelling is with thee.

GOSPEL ACCLAMATION

JN 6:51-52

Alleluia, alleluia!

I am the living bread from heaven, says the Lord; whoever eats this bread will live for ever.

Alleluia!

GOSPEL

JN 6:51-58

A reading from the holy Gospel according to John

My flesh is real food and my blood is real drink.

Jesus said to the Jews:

'I am the living bread which has come down from heaven.

Anyone who eats this bread will live for ever; and the bread that I shall give is my flesh, for the life of the world.'

Then the Jews started arguing with one another: 'How can this man give us his flesh to eat?' they said. Jesus replied:

'I tell you most solemnly, if you do not eat the flesh of the Son of Man and drink his blood, you will not have life in you.

Anyone who does eat my flesh and drink my blood has eternal life, and I shall raise him up on the last day.

For my flesh is real food and my blood is real drink.

He who eats my flesh and drinks my blood lives in me and I live in him.

As I, who am sent by the living Father, myself draw life from the Father, so whoever eats me will draw life from me.

This is the bread come down from heaven; not like the bread our ancestors ate: they are dead, but anyone who eats this bread will live for ever.'

COMMUNION ANTIPHON

JN 6:57

Whoever eats my flesh and drinks my blood remains in me and I in him, says the Lord.

FOOTPRINTS IN THE SAND

One night I dreamed I was walking along the beach with the Lord. Many scenes from my life flashed across the sky.

In each scene I noticed footprints in the sand.

Sometimes there were two sets of footprints, other times there was one only.

This bothered me because I noticed that during the low periods of my life, when I was suffering from anguish, sorrow or defeat, I could see only one set of footprints, so I said to the Lord,

"You promised me Lord, that if I followed you, you would walk with me always. But I have noticed that during the most trying periods of my life there has only been one set of footprints in the sand. Why, when I needed you most, have you not been there for me?"

The Lord replied,

"The years when you have seen only one set of footprints, my child, is when I carried you."
