10TH ANNIVERSARY OF MARY MACKILLOP'S CANONISATION

"WHOMSOEVER YOU FIND INVITE TO THE WEDDING."

The date of 17 October 2020 marks the 10th anniversary of the canonisation of St Mary of the Cross MacKillop. The Sisters of St Joseph invite us to celebrate the wonderful life and inspirational legacy of our first Saint.

The theme for this celebration is "Take Fresh Courage", a quote written by Mary MacKillop on 21 May 1877.

Details of the celebrations and resources can be found at <https://www.sosj.org.au/10th-anniversary/>. A "Courage Hour" will be held on the vigil Friday 16 October at 8pm (your local time), where all can participate on-line via the Sisters of St Joseph

SALVATORIAN MISSIONS & SEMINARIES COLLECTION

NEXT WEEKEND 17 – 18 OCTOBER

We will be holding a collection for the Salvatorian Missions and Seminaries. The money collect will be distributed to the Salvatorian community to help fund their missions and seminaries.

Seminarian Anthony will attend all Mass at St Patrick's to talk about the work of the Salvatorians and the importance of that work. Anthony is a wonderful example of the work of the Salvatorian and I am sure we will benefit from his words.

A LETTER FROM FR GREG

DEAR PARISHIONERS,

You would have seen in the bulletin that for the last few weeks we have been raising money for a new project in the parish – the installation of air-conditioning in our church.

I am sure that you are more aware than I, that during summer our church gets extremely hot and in winter it gets bitterly cold. We have many elderly parishioners in our community, and my experience here so far has shown that during summer many people became unwell, with some even requiring an ambulance due to the effects of the heat. During winter, many people have shared with me that it is too cold for them while they are sitting and praying in the church. Not only is this uncomfortable and distracting, it has actually resulted in numerous people leaving our parish to look for churches that have air conditioning. After receiving countless comments about this issue, I felt compassion towards you and compelled to do something about it. After a few weeks of raising money for this project I have further seen that there are many of you who are very supportive of this and wish for it to happen. While I acknowledge that some people have been concerned that we are spending a lot of money on one project and not investing it in different ways, I do not believe the before-mentioned situation can not be ignored, and has to be a priority for the comfort and health of our community.

Since the beginning of this project we have investigated different quotes, which have come in between $38,000 and $77,000, each having a different system and method of providing warm or cold air. After a few weeks of working on this project with the finance committee, parish council and the air conditioning companies, I have chosen the one which I believe is the most economical and practical option for this parish. This option will cost us $38,000 including other necessary installation costs such as extension of power and woodwork. Please note that this is much less than was previously advertised in the parish bulletin.

I am incredibly grateful for all the donations and your generosity which has supported this project so far. To date, we have raised more than $17,500, which is already half of the full amount. Due to the urgency of this situation with summer around the corner, it has been decided that we will cover the rest of the cost using money from our long term saving account with the view to undertake further fundraisers and activities to return the used money to the parish within 12 months. There are already arrangements underway for an activity which will provide us with a new regular income which will be communicated to you shortly. Please be assured that, together with the finance committee, I am working to make sure that we have multiple of sources of income for the parish to support the many projects we undertake. We still greatly appreciate and need your support, prayers and donations. If you wish to contribute towards this project, there are still envelopes at the back of the church or please contact one of our priests or the parish office.

We are also aware that air-conditioning has running costs, so before we install it I wanted to ensure the power bill will not deplete the parish finances and be prohibitive to use. As you may be aware we received a bequest from one of our departed parishioners, and have been keeping this money in our long term deposit account. The interest has not been justifiably profitable and therefore, together with the finance committee and parish council, I have decided to invest some of this money into solar panels. By doing this, we will save between $5000-$7000 every year, which means that after 4-5 years it will have paid for itself and will continue to save the parish a significant amount of money into the future, as well as cover the ongoing expenses.

I feel confident that this and other projects in the parish will be very well received by you and you will continue to show the parish your support. All that I do is for you and this parish community to make sure that not just the spiritual needs but also the physical needs of those who are here are met.

Together with the parish staff, we have been working hard to make sure you feel welcome, and the environment is conducive to you encountering Jesus, therefore nourished spiritually.

I ask that you please keep in your prayers the finance committee, parish council and all the parish staff, that we may continue to work together to make this parish community grow more in love for God and for our neighbour.

Yours in Christ
Fr Greg Skulski SDS

WHAT IF ANYTHING, WOULD YOU CHANGE ABOUT ATTENDING SERVICES HERE?

There was very little consistency in the comments related to suggested changes to services.
 There was some comment about ensuring that the music remains relevant and engaging allowing parishioners to participate.
 The Parish is also encouraged to continue to find ways to engage youth in the parish.
 The vast majority of comments indicated that there is no need to change anything and that services are welcoming and engaging.

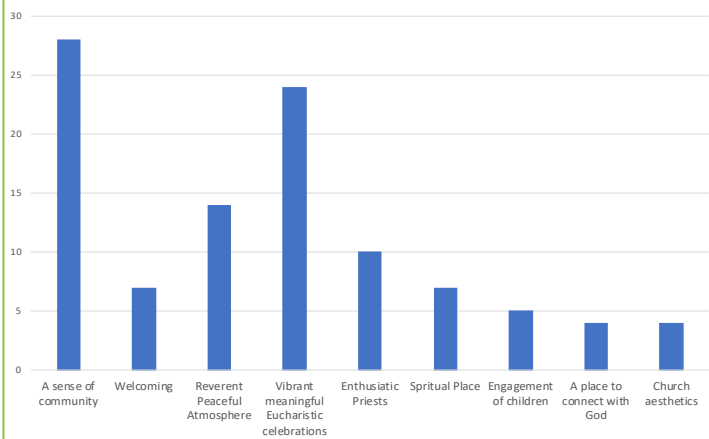

What are some ways that you think we could make our church more welcoming for new visitors?

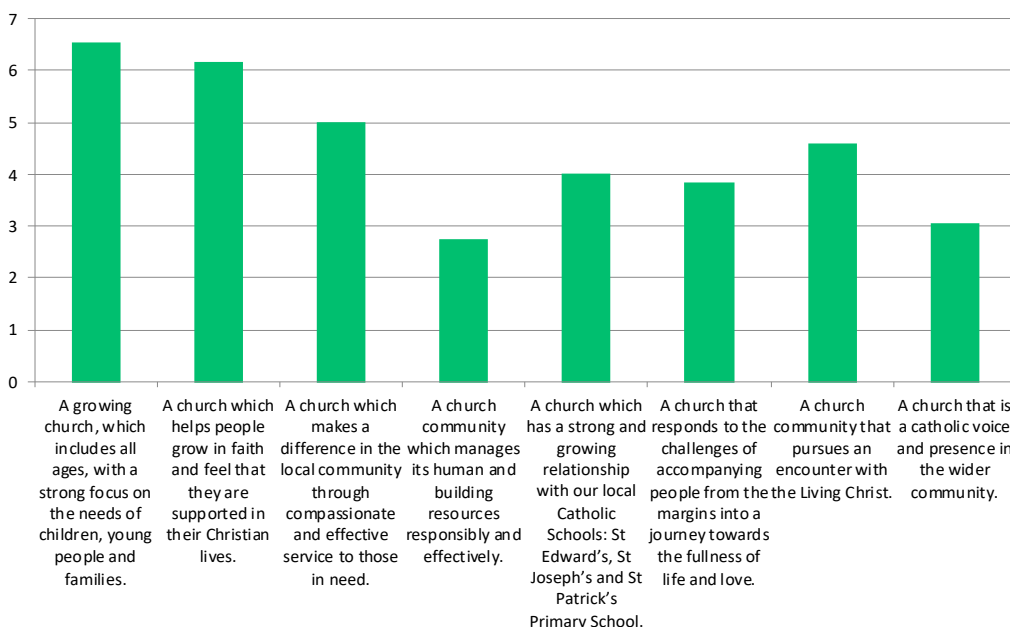

What is an area for development for the parish community?

What do you most enjoy about attending services here?

PS 129:3-4

If you, O Lord, should mark iniquities, Lord, who could stand?

But with you is found forgiveness, O God of Israel.

FIRST READING

IS 25:6-10

A reading from the prophet Isaiah

The Lord will prepare a feast and will wipe away the tears from every cheek.

On this mountain, the Lord of hosts will prepare for all people a banquet of rich food, a banquet of fine wines, of food rich and juicy, of fine strained wines.

On this mountain he will remove the mourning veil covering all peoples, and the shroud enwrapping all nations, he will destroy Death for ever.

The Lord will wipe away the tears from every cheek; he will take away his people's shame everywhere on earth, for the Lord has said so.

That day, it will be said: See, this is our God in whom we hoped for salvation; the Lord is the one in whom we hoped.

We exult and we rejoice that he has saved us; for the hand of the Lord rests on this mountain.

The Word of the Lord

RESPONSORIAL PSALM

PS 22. R. V.6

(R.) I shall live in the house of the Lord all the days of my life.

The Lord is my shepherd; there is nothing I shall want.

Fresh and green are the pastures where he gives me repose.

Near restful waters he leads me, to revive my drooping spirit.

(R.) I shall live in the house of the Lord all the days of my life.

He guides me along the right path; he is true to his name.

If I should walk in the valley of darkness no evil would I fear.

You are there with your crook and your staff; with these you give me comfort.

(R.) I shall live in the house of the Lord all the days of my life.

You have prepared a banquet for me in the sight of my foes.

My head you have anointed with oil; my cup is overflowing.

(R.) I shall live in the house of the Lord all the days of my life.

Surely goodness and kindness shall follow me all the days of my life.

In the Lord's own house shall I dwell for ever and ever.

(R.) I shall live in the house of the Lord all the days of my life.

SECOND READING

PHIL 4:12-14. 19-20

A reading from the letter of St Paul to the Philippians

I am able to do all things in him who strengthens me.

I know how to be poor and I know how to be rich too. I have been through my initiation and now I am ready for anything anywhere: full stomach or empty stomach, poverty or plenty. There is nothing I cannot master with the help of the One who gives me strength. All the same, it was good of you to share with me in my hardships. In return my God will fulfil all your needs, in Christ Jesus, as lavishly as only God can. Glory to God, our Father, for ever and ever. Amen.

The Word of the Lord

GOSPEL ACCLAMATION

SEE EPH 1:17-18

Alleluia, alleluia!

May the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ enlighten the eyes of our heart that we might see how great is the hope to which we are called.

Alleluia!

GOSPEL

MT 22:1-10

A reading from the holy Gospel according to Matthew

Whomsoever you find invite to the wedding.

Jesus said to the chief priests and elders of the people: "The kingdom of heaven may be compared to a king who gave a feast for his son's wedding. He sent his servants to call those who had been invited, but they would not come. Next he sent some more servants. "Tell those who have been invited" he said "that I have my banquet all prepared, my oxen and fattened cattle have been slaughtered, everything is ready. Come to the wedding." But they were not interested: one went off to his farm, another to his business, and the rest seized his servants, maltreated them and killed them. The king was furious. He dispatched his troops, destroyed those murderers and burnt their town. Then he said to his servants, "The wedding is ready; but as those who were invited proved to be unworthy, go to the crossroads in the town and invite everyone you can find to the wedding." So these servants went out on to the roads and collected together everyone they could find, bad and good alike; and the wedding hall was filled with guests.'

SCRIPTURE COMMENTARY

BY DIANNE BERGANT CSA

The passage from Isaiah depicts a scene of permanent victory, abundant feasting and life without end. The setting is a high mountain from which the power and the munificence of God are made manifest, and a sumptuous eschatological banquet is prepared. The rich foods mentioned are symbols of the fullness of life. It is also on this mountain that God destroys death, along with the pall and shroud, symbols of death. This is a time when all promises are fulfilled, a time of ultimate salvation. This eschatological fulfilment embraces not only the entire human race, but the natural world as well. Finally, on that day of eschatological fulfilment, the people acclaim the God to whom they looked for salvation.

The responsorial psalm, one of the most familiar and beloved psalms of the Psalter, paints vivid pictures of carefree existence, peaceful rest, and abundant fruitfulness. Although 'shepherd' suggests a flock rather than merely one sheep, here the focus is on the individual. The magnanimous care shown by the shepherd flows from enduring righteousness rather than from some passing sentiment of the heart. The divine shepherd's tender commitment to the flock, and to each individual within it, is as lasting as is God's covenant commitment. The psalmist claims to be unafraid, for the presence of the Lord is reassuring. In addition to this image, God is characterised as a host who supervises a banquet, and within whose house the psalmist ultimately dwells.

Paul is not referring to the ordinary trials and sufferings of life. He is talking about the tribulations that will engulf all people at the onslaught of the endtime. This suffering, known as the 'birth pangs of the Messiah', stems from the apocalyptic conclusion of this age. The avenue through which Paul enters this time of tribulation is the burdens of the ministry. The help offered by the Philippians was not merely philanthropic assistance. They participated in Paul's ministerial endeavours and his distress, the tribulations of the endtime. Therefore, they are promised a share in the glory of the new age. Paul concludes by praising the glory that has been God's from the beginning and that will continue to be God's from age to age.

Jesus uses a parable to illustrate the severe consequences of refusing the invitation to a royal wedding banquet. The culpable negligence or indifference of those originally called was tantamount to political insubordination. The wedding garment probably represented some aspect of righteousness. The banquet is a metaphor for the delights of the eschatological age of fulfilment (see Is 25:6). The time between the initial invitation and the announcement that the banquet is ready resembles the interim between the invitation to participate in the age of fulfilment and one's entrance into it. Finally, the punishment meted out by the king suggests the final judgment and the distress that will accompany it.
