NOVEMBER — THE MONTH OF REMEMBRANCE

Commencing with the Feast of All Saints on Sunday, November 1, we take the time to remember our departed loved ones.

One way of doing this is to have them remembered at each of the nominated Masses during the month. In the foyer today you will find special November Mass envelopes. On which you may list [BLOCK LETTERS PLEASE] those for whom you would like Mass said, pop in your offering to our clergy, and either place in the collection boxes or drop it into the parish office.

Those names will then be listed and kept at the sanctuary during November.

Our Priests will offer a daily Mass in public or in private to those on the list in the sacristy.

Just a reminder though that during November we do not record or offer individual Masses of Remembrance and therefore names are not noted in the Bulletin.

Individual Masses may be offered after December 1. Masses for the recently deceased and those whose anniversaries occur in November are offered as usual.

MASS AT POINT CLARE CEMETERY, THURSDAY NOVEMBER 12, AT 11:00 AM

Mass that will be held at Pt Clare Cemetery in remembrance of those interred there.

MEMORIAL WALL NICHE BLESSINGS

During November, if anyone would like to have the Memorial Wall niche of their loved one blessed, please let Father know and he would be happy to go with you and bless it after the Mass you are attending.

THE FAMILY – A BLESSING FOR THE CHURCH

One of the earliest memories of my childhood is kneeling by my bed at night with my parents and brothers and sisters to pray the Rosary. Dad's devotion to the Rosary underpinned all we were as a family in those early days of my life.

ENTRANCE ANTIPHON

CF. PS 87:3

Let my prayer come into your presence.

Incline your ear to my cry for help, O Lord.

FIRST READING

WIS 6:12-16

A reading from the book of Wisdom

Wisdom is found by those who look for it.

Wisdom is bright, and does not grow dim.

By those who love her she is readily seen, and found by those who look for her.

Quick to anticipate those who desire her, she makes herself known to them.

Watch for her early and you will have no trouble; you will find her sitting at your gates.

Even to think about her is understanding fully grown; be on the alert for her and anxiety will quickly leave you.

She herself walks about looking for those who are worthy of her and graciously shows herself to them as they go, in every thought of theirs coming to meet them.

RESPONSORIAL PSALM

PS 62:2-8. R. V.2

(R.) My soul is thirsting for you, O Lord my God.

O God, you are my God, for you I long; for you my soul is thirsting.

My body pines for you like a dry, weary land without water.

(R.) My soul is thirsting for you, O Lord my God.

So I gaze on you in the sanctuary, to see your strength and your glory.

For your love is better than life, my lips will speak your praise.

(R.) My soul is thirsting for you, O Lord my God.

So I will bless you all my life, in your name I will lift up my hands.

My soul shall be filled as with a banquet, my mouth shall praise you with joy.

(R.) My soul is thirsting for you, O Lord my God.

On my bed I remember you. On you I muse through the night for you have been my help; in the shadow of your wings I rejoice.

(R.) My soul is thirsting for you, O Lord my God.

SECOND READING

1 THES 4:13-14

A reading from the first letter of St Paul to the Thessalonians

Those who died as Christians, God will bring to life with Jesus.

We want you to be quite certain, brothers, about those who have died, to make sure that you do not grieve about them, like the other people who have no hope. We believe that Jesus died and rose again, and that it will be the same for those who have died in Jesus: God will bring them with him.

GOSPEL ACCLAMATION

MT 24:42. 44

Alleluia, alleluia!

Be watchful and ready: you know not when the Son of Man is coming.

Alleluia!

GOSPEL

MT 25:1-13

A reading from the holy Gospel according to Matthew

Look, the bridegroom comes. Go out to meet him.

Jesus told this parable to his disciples: 'The kingdom of heaven will be like this: Ten bridesmaids took their lamps and went to meet the bridegroom. Five of them were foolish and five of them were sensible: the foolish ones did take their lamps, but they brought no oil, whereas the sensible ones took flasks of oil as well as their lamps. The bridegroom was late, and they all grew drowsy and fell asleep. But at midnight there was a cry, "The bridegroom is here! Go out and meet him." At this, all those bridesmaids woke up and trimmed their lamps, and the foolish ones said to the sensible ones, "Give us some of your oil: our lamps are going out." But they replied, "There may not be enough for us and for you; you had better go to those who sell it and buy some for yourselves." They had gone off to buy it when the bridegroom arrived. Those who were ready went in with him to the wedding hall and the door was closed. The other bridesmaids arrived later. "Lord, Lord," they said, "open the door for us." But he replied, "I tell you solemnly, I do not know you." So stay awake, because you do not know either the day or the hour.'

COMMUNION ANTIPHON

CF. PS 22:1-2

The Lord is my shepherd; there is nothing I shall want.

Fresh and green are the pastures where he gives me repose, near restful waters he leads me.

SCRIPTURE COMMENTARY

BY DIANNE BERGANT CSA

In the tradition of Israel this wisdom (Wis 6:12-16) is personified as a woman. Wisdom in this feminine personification is not exactly a divine characteristic, but she is very close to it (see Wis 7:25-26). Wisdom is perceived by those who love her; she is found by those who search for her. Actually, the love of Wisdom and the search for Wisdom are evidence that one is already wise. Wisdom is always available to them, waiting for them, calling to them. Although she permeates all of reality, she resides at its deepest level, and so only those who venture into the deepest realms of experience will find her. Those who find Wisdom find peace and security, meaning and fulfilment.

The psalm of confidence begins with expressions of longing, followed by a short hymn of praise, concluding with words of confidence. The metaphor 'arid land' not only makes the psalmist's longing concrete, but it also suggests that an experience of God is as essential for a human being as water is essential for natural life itself. The arid life without God is contrasted with the sumptuous life with God. The psalmist insists that the covenant bond of lovingkindness is more precious than life itself. Several concepts or images characterise the psalmist's trust in God: help; protective wings; the power of God's right hand. The psalmist has turned to God for life and security, and God has responded with the requested protection.

The subject of Paul's instruction is the final coming of the Lord. It seems that some Christians believed that living the new life in Christ would exempt them from physical death. Therefore, they were troubled by the death of some of their members, questioned either the authenticity of the faith of the deceased or the trustworthiness of their new life. Paul argues that those joined to Christ share in his victory over death. He draws on elements from the apocalyptic tradition of Israel to describe the events that will take place at the end of time when all will be finally joined to Christ. Paul testifies to the truth of this on the strength of the word of the Lord.

Several features of the parable of the Ten Virgins mark its eschatological character. First, banquet is a symbol of eschatological fulfilment (see Is 25:6). Second is the idea of waiting in darkness for an event to occur without knowing exactly when it will come to pass. Finally, there is an ultimate separation that cannot be altered. Jesus may be recounting a parable that describes circumstances surrounding a wedding, but he is teaching a lesson about the endtime. The point of the parable is preparedness, the kind of preparedness that cannot be loaned or given by another. One must prepare oneself. Jesus concludes the parable with the admonition: Be alert! You do not know when the end will come!
