SCRIPTURE COMMENTARY

BY BRENDAN BYRNE SJ

Today's dramatic First Reading comes from that part of the Book of Job (38:1, 8-11) where God, refusing to answer Job's questions, withdraws more and more deeply into mystery. God puts to Job a series of questions that serve simply to drive home more and more the distance between Creator and human creature. The questions bear upon God's mighty acts in creation, the chief of them being victory over the primeval watery chaos, a victory that allowed dry land and vegetative life to appear (Gen 1:9-10). In biblical thought and imagery water out of control is the prime symbol of chaos and destruction. To control such forces, as poetically described in the present text, was considered a prerogative of God alone.

The same idea appears in the Responsorial Psalm (Psalm 106): because of their exposure to the dangers of the deep 'those who go down to the sea in ships' (sailors) are uniquely placed to experience the creative power of God.

Both of these texts offer an appropriate background to the Gospel (Mark 4:35-41), where Christ calms the storm that threatens to engulf the boat on which he and his disciples are crossing the Sea of Galilee. Mark's account of the episode features a wonderful combination of the human and the divine. At first the disciples are very much in control. When Jesus makes the suggestion, 'Let us cross over to the other side', they take him 'just as he was, in the boat'. On land he may be in control but the sea is their sphere of competence: they are after all, most of them, fishermen. Completely in their hands, it seems, Jesus takes the opportunity to have a little nap, commandeering, we are told in a delightfully human touch, the helmsman's cushion for the purpose.

The sudden onset of a storm (something for which the Sea of Galilee is notorious) changes everything. The disciples become desperate, wake him and rather rudely ask if he cares at all that they are about to sink! In Mark's account they are not necessarily at this stage asking him for a miracle: simply to render what assistance he can – by bailing out water or the like.

Swiftly, the One who moments before had been so humanly asleep like a child, rises and majestically commands the wind and the sea in the way that, as we have seen, belongs to God alone. The fury of the storm gives way to a divinely-created calm. Jesus then turns to the disciples and questions them about their fear and lack of faith. Did they not understand that with him present, even if asleep, there was no chance that the forces of chaos and destruction could overwhelm them? Did they not realise who precisely was among them in the Master they had come to follow?

"WHO CAN THIS BE? EVEN THE WIND AND THE SEA OBEY HIM."

It seems that their faith still had a long way to go before being adequate to the mystery of Jesus. But at least they ask the right question, 'Who is this, who even the winds and the sea obey?' From their biblical understanding they know that they have witnessed an exercise of divine power. Hence they are 'filled with awe' – the true human response in the presence of the divine. In the brief compass of this one short scene we have moved so swiftly from a very human view of Jesus to one where he is exercising divine power in a most dramatic way.

The original readers of Mark's Gospel would have found this episode rich in symbolism. In all four gospels the boat is a symbol of the Church; the sea – especially the sea out of control – is a symbol of all the forces that are hostile to the Church and seek to destroy it. Yet, to fulfil its mission and win people ('fish') for the Kingdom, the Church must go out upon the sea. There are times in the history of the Church when its Lord seems to be absent or asleep – times when faith in the divine presence and power is put to the test. In such situations the story told in this Gospel gives great hope and encouragement. At the same time, it takes us more deeply into the mystery of Christ as, along with the disciples, we too ask, 'Who is this ...?'

Amid all this imagery focused upon the sea, the Second Reading (2 Corinthians 5:14-17) stands rather apart. But it contains some of Paul's most stirring reflections upon the implications of really coming to appreciate the heart of the paschal mystery. The thought of the love involved in Christ's dying for all is simply 'overwhelming': it can completely transform one's attitude to others and communicate a readiness to place one's life entirely at the service of his self-sacrificing mission to 'catch' people for the Kingdom.

ST EDWARD'S AND ST JOSEPH'S COLLEGE SACRAMENTS

Rev Bishop Anthony will be joining us at the 5:00pm Mass next Saturday, 29th June to celebrate the Sacraments for students from St Edward's and St Joseph's. Please keep the students in your prayers during this time of formation.

WE ARE IN DESPERATE NEED OF A FRIDAY HOSPITAL TEAM COORDINATOR!

This is another plea for a kind hearted person, conscious of the needs of Catholic patients at Gosford Hospital, to coordinate our team of Friday visitors, currently once a fortnight but potentially bi-monthly only. It sounds a bit more onerous than it is; it actually means that on your rostered Friday you would need to be at the hospital before the visitors arrive to obtain the list of Catholic patients so that you may draw up a schedule for the team but you do not actually have to visit yourself. The team will return to you with the names of those wanting to receive communion on the Sunday which you then collate and submit to the Parish Office. Job done.

Does this sound like something you could do in the name of stewardship of your parish and goodwill to those in need? Our current coord, Theresa Giddings will be retiring in a couple of months and her co-coordinator, Patricia McCaskie will be going on leave. We will be without a coord. Please contact the Parish Office if you are interested to know more.

YOUR PLANNED GIVING ENVELOPES ARE NOW AVAILABLE AT THE FOYER TODAY

Subscribing to our planned giving program – which is another way of saying that you commit to supporting our 2nd Collection that covers the payment of all operating expenses for the church, which are numerous, and the support of our priests, via popping your donation into an allocated envelope when at Mass that is connected to your name. It is our preferred method of giving simply because it assists us in setting our budgets. Or, the same thing can be achieved by a monthly credit or debit card deduction we could arrange together. Donations are not tax deductible but we would be happy to include a monthly PWBB envelope into your packet as donations to that fund are 100% tax deductible.

Please contact the office, or complete and submit the tear off available in this Bulletin, and we'll be in touch.

For those already enrolled in the program, your envelopes are available today, and we sincerely thank you for your support.

OUR PARTICULAR THANKS THIS WEEK

TO TOM CROLL

for repairing the door to our JPPI Intercessions box, and a tricky little job it was! Thanks Tom!

LOST & FOUND ITEMS

We often get calls from people who have left something in the church and often are left searching a number of places before we either find it or determine we don't have it. We now have a 'LOST & FOUND' box near the Welcomers' desk, beside the stairs. If you find something could it please be placed in this box for easy location? Many thanks.

MOVIE SCREENING

On Monday, the 24th of June, we will have a screening of the movie, "St. Barbara", the story of a convert and martyr of the faith. Join us after the 9:00am Mass in the Jordan Room. We can't wait to see you there!

ST JOSEPH'S WORKSHOP

If you are looking to retire soon perhaps consider joining the St. Joseph workshop team at West Gosford to give you a fulfilling time making furniture for those less fortunate.

We are looking for additional volunteers to help make furniture for welfare and sale in St. Vincent De Paul shops across NSW.

We work from 7.00am to 12.00pm Mon to Friday, so pick the day or days that suit you and come and join a great team of men & women learning new skills and meeting new people.

Our volunteers come from varied vocations and everyone is welcome as we will train you with our detailed training guides and helpful members.

If you are on Job Seeker, we can satisfy your voluntary work requirements for Centrelink. We are an approved employer (Centrelink DI 40445).

ENTRANCE ANTIPHON

Cf PSALM 27:8-9

The Lord is the strength of his people, a saving refuge for the one he has anointed. Save your people, Lord, and bless your heritage, and govern them for ever.

FIRST READING

JOB 38:1. 8-11

A reading from the book of Job

Here I have set the boundaries of the sea. From the heart of the tempest the Lord gave Job his answer. He said: Who pent up the sea behind closed doors when it leapt tumultuous out of the womb, when I wrapped it in a robe of mist and made black clouds its swaddling bands; when I marked the bounds it was not to cross and made it fast with a bolted gate? Come thus far, I said, and no farther: here your proud waves shall break.

RESPONSORIAL PSALM

Ps 106:23-26. 28-31. R. v. 1

(R.) Give thanks to the Lord, his love is everlasting.

1. Some sailed to the sea in ships to trade on the mighty waters. These men have seen the Lord's deeds, the wonders he does in the deep. (R.) Give thanks to the Lord, his love is everlasting.
2. For he spoke; he summoned the gale, tossing the waves of the sea up to heaven and back into the deep; their soul melted away in their distress. (R.) Give thanks to the Lord, his love is everlasting.
3. Then they cried to the Lord in their need and he rescued them from their distress. He stilled the storm to a whisper: all the waves of the sea were hushed. (R.) Give thanks to the Lord, his love is everlasting.
4. They rejoiced because of the calm and he led them to the haven they desired. Let them thank the Lord for his love, the wonders he does for men. (R.) Give thanks to the Lord, his love is everlasting.

SECOND READING

2 CORINTHIANS 5:14-17

A reading from the second letter of St Paul to the Corinthians

All things are made new. The love of Christ overwhelms us when we reflect that if one man has died for all, then all men should be dead; and the reason he died for all was so that living men should live no longer for themselves, but for him who died and was raised to life for them. From now onwards, therefore, we do not judge anyone by the standards of the flesh. Even if we did once know Christ in the flesh, that is not how we know him now. And for anyone who is in Christ, there is a new creation; the old creation has gone, and now the new one is here.

GOSPEL ACCLAMATION

LUKE 7:16

Alleluia, alleluia!

A great prophet has appeared among us; God has visited his people. Alleluia!

GOSPEL

MARK 4:35-41

A reading from the holy Gospel according to Mark

Who can this be? Even the wind and the sea obey him. With the coming of evening, Jesus said to his disciples, 'Let us cross over to the other side.' And leaving the crowd behind they took him, just as he was, in the boat; and there were other boats with him. Then it began to blow a gale and the waves were breaking into the boat so that it was almost swamped. But he was in the stern, his head on the cushion, asleep. They woke him and said to him, 'Master, do you not care? We are going down!' And he woke up and rebuked the wind and said to the sea, 'Quiet now! Be calm!' And the wind dropped, and all was calm again. Then he said to them, 'Why are you so frightened? How is it that you have no faith?' They were filled with awe and said to one another, 'Who can this be? Even the wind and the sea obey him.'

COMMUNION ANTIPHON

PSALM 144:15

The eyes of all look to you, Lord, and you give them their food in due season.

SAFEGUARDING AWARENESS

2024 THEME:

The Voice of the Vulnerable with a particular focus on Domestic and Family Violence

During this year's safeguarding training our clergy discussed the importance of raising awareness of domestic and family violence and providing resources to support victims. The Safeguarding Office worked with our CatholicCare Agency to develop a poster that can be used by parishes to raise awareness. The poster has a QR Code link to the CatholicCare Domestic and Family Violence webpage. The Safeguarding Office will be delivering this poster and Legal Aid Charmed & Dangerous resource to our parishes in the coming weeks.
