COURAGE

SCRIPTURE COMMENTARY

BY BRENDAN BYRNE SJ

The theme that links the readings today seems to be that of the 'rejected prophet'. The not very attractive but mercifully brief First Reading, taken from the call of the prophet Ezekiel (2:2-5), sets this up. The Lord instructs the prophet that he is to stand by his message even though it will meet with rejection from a rebellious people. The message will be vindicated in due course.

It is against this background that the Gospel, Mark 6:1-6, describes Jesus' return to his hometown Nazareth. He is accompanied by his disciples, who are now beginning to constitute his 'new family' (3:31-35), distinct from the members of his original family listed here. When on the sabbath day Jesus begins to teach in the synagogue, his former townsfolk are amazed at the authority and wisdom of his words. In a sense they ask the right question, 'Where did the man get all this?' But the contemptuous tone ('the man') already signals rejection. Had they pondered a little longer on the 'where' (or 'whence'), they might have begun to arrive at the right solution: that the authority and wisdom Jesus is displaying comes from his empowerment with the Spirit of God (Mark 1:10).

Instead, the Nazarenes immediately seek to put him back into the box of their previous knowledge of him: he is the carpenter and, yes, they know and can list all the members of his family. With this they can be comfortable. Impossible that one of them, one so familiar, could really be a prophet sent from God to instruct them. Small-town prejudice and narrow-mindedness blinker perception of the reality that is there before them, forcing Jesus to repeat in reference to Nazareth the adage, 'The only place where prophets are without honour is in their own hometown, ...' (v 4).

This Markan account of the incident goes on to comment, 'And he could do no deed of power there, except that he laid his hands on a few sick people and cured them' (v. 5). 'Deeds of power' in Mark's Gospel refer to the liberation of people from a variety of afflictions (spiritual, psychological and physical) that the worldview of the time attributed to demonic possession. We do not have to follow that attribution in all instances but we should ask what corresponds in our understanding to this sense of captivity to demonic forces. We can see it as Jesus confronting all that seeks to control and de-humanise people, alienating them from God and from fellow-human beings.

"A PROPHET IS DESPISED ONLY IN HIS OWN COUNTRY."

What is remarkable here is the way in which the Gospel so frankly records Jesus' helplessness to do any such deeds of power for his townsfolk because of their lack of faith. Faith or the lack of it conditioned his power to help. Put the other way round and more positively, it is faith that allows God's power to be effective in our world.

The episode shows that the greatest enemy to faith can simply be 'familiarity': a refusal to believe that God's presence and God's power could come to us in so familiar a form as the person next door. The Nazarenes had their own fixed ideas as to when and where and how the Messiah should come to Israel – and the one they knew as the local carpenter simply didn't fit the bill. So the only place that really missed out on Jesus' works of power was his own hometown.

Progress in the spiritual life – growth in the Spirit – almost always shows itself in the ability to recognise God more and more in the ordinary, the everyday. This is why the great saints never stopped wondering – being filled with wonder at the mysterious presence of God they constantly sensed all round them. The full meaning of the Incarnation is not only that the Son of God became a human being but that he took human form in a town as ordinary and insignificant and out of the way as Nazareth (cf. John 1:46). Perhaps we have to identify and name 'the Nazareth' in our own selves.

With respect to the Second Reading (2 Corinthians 12:7-10) we should surely be grateful to St Paul for the frankness with which he acknowledged the 'thorn in the flesh' that remained despite all his pleadings with God to take it away. It must have been something well known and obvious, since he clearly expected his Corinthian audience to know what he was talking about – something like a physical ailment that made his appearance unattractive or an impediment of speech. Whatever it was, the 'thorn' that God would not take away became a key aspect of his spirituality and sense of God's grace. Faced with seemingly ineradicable character traits and weaknesses, we too have to learn, 'When I am weak, then I am strong'.

Pope Francis' Prayer Intention

JULY

For The Pastoral Care of The Sick

Let us pray that the Sacrament of the Anointing of the Sick, bestows the Lord's strength to those who receive it and to their loved ones, and that it may become for everyone an ever more visible sign of compassion and hope.

FR GREG RETURNING JULY 8TH

A MESSAGE FROM FR GREG

Dear parishioners,

I will return to Gosford this Sunday after a few weeks of my time with my ill mother in Poland. I would like to take this opportunity to thank all of you for all your love, prayers, support, kindness and generosity shown to me and my mother, Jadwiga over many weeks and months. It was a blessed time that I could spend with my mum. On my arrival to Poland, she got much better and we had such a great time together, but unfortunately, the last two weeks she is in hospital having more treatments due to her bad blood results. Despite this, she remains very strong and positive in facing her challenges each day.

I will be fully back to my ministry in the parish in the next few days after I recover from jet leg.

God bless,

Fr Greg

THE SITUATION WITH OUR WC FACILITIES

We have had two very unfortunate incidents lately with what may be perceived as vandalism of our toilets causing great inconvenience and expense if we hadn't had the services of volunteer caretakers, Chris Galea and Paul Galea, to whom we owe a debt of thanks. We ask you to be alert to any suspicious activities around the church and to please report anything amiss to the Parish Office.

2023/24 TAX RECEIPTS AVAILABLE TODAY

The balance will have to come from our 2nd collection proceeds.

MASSES AT MANGROVE MOUNTAIN

In two weeks time our parish will start again Masses on Saturdays at Mangrove Mountain. A new location and more details will be announced at the middle of July. We look forward to reconnecting again with all parishioners from that area.

Cf PSALM 47:10-11

Your merciful love, O God, we have received in the midst of your temple. Your praise, O God, like your name, reaches the ends of the earth; your right hand is filled with saving justice.

FIRST READING

EZEKIEL 2:2-5

A reading from the prophet Ezekiel

The spirit came into me and made me stand up, and I heard the Lord speaking to me. He said, 'Son of man, I am sending you up to the Israelites, to the rebels who have turned against me. Till now they and their ancestors have been in revolt against me. The sons are defiant and obstinate; I am sending you to them, to say, "The Lord says this." Whether they listen or not, this set of rebels shall know there is a prophet among them.'

RESPONSORIAL PSALM

Ps 122. R. v.2

(R.) Our eyes are fixed on the Lord, pleading for his mercy.

1. To you have I lifted up my eyes, you who dwell in the heavens: my eyes, like the eyes of slaves on the hand of their lords.

(R.) Our eyes are fixed on the Lord, pleading for his mercy.

2. Like the eyes of a servant on the hand of his mistress, so our eyes are on the Lord our God till he shows us his mercy.

(R.) Our eyes are fixed on the Lord, pleading for his mercy.

3. Have mercy on us, Lord, have mercy.

We are filled with contempt. Indeed all too full is our soul with the scorn of the rich, with the proud man's disdain.

(R.) Our eyes are fixed on the Lord, pleading for his mercy.

SECOND READING

2 CORINTHIANS 12:7-10

A reading from the second letter of St Paul to the Corinthians

In view of the extraordinary nature of these revelations, to stop me from getting too proud I was given a thorn in the flesh, an angel of Satan to beat me and stop me from getting too proud! About this thing, I have pleaded with the Lord three times for it to leave me, but he has said, 'My grace is enough for you: my power is at its best in weakness.' So I shall be very happy to make my weaknesses my special boast so that the power of Christ may stay over me, and that is why I am quite content with my weaknesses, and with insults, hardships, persecutions, and the agonies I go through for Christ's sake. For it is when I am weak that I am strong.

GOSPEL ACCLAMATION

LUKE 4:18

Alleluia, alleluia!

The Spirit of the Lord is upon me; he sent me to bring Good News to the poor.

Alleluia!

GOSPEL

MARK 6:1-6

A reading from the holy Gospel according to Mark

Jesus went to his home town and his disciples accompanied him. With the coming of the sabbath he began teaching in the synagogue and most of them were astonished when they heard him. They said, 'Where did the man get all this? What is this wisdom that has been granted him, and these miracles that are worked through him? This is the carpenter, surely, the son of Mary, the brother of James and Joset and Jude and Simon? His sisters, too, are they not here with us?' And they would not accept him. And Jesus said to them, 'A prophet is only despised in his own country among his own relations and in his own house'; and he could work no miracle there, though he cured a few sick people by laying his hands on them. He was amazed at their lack of faith.

COMMUNION ANTIPHON

PSALM 33:9

Taste and see that the Lord is good; blessed the man who seeks refuge in him.

SAFEGUARDING

Awareness of Elder Abuse within our community

Alarming data released by the NSW Ageing and Disability Commission (ADC) shows a 38 per cent increase in statutory reports about the abuse of older people, with 53 per cent of these reports relating to allegations against adult children. The numbers will continue to rise unless we talk more about elder abuse.

The data reported by NSW Ageing and Disability Commission during 2020-2022 showed:

67 per cent of reports about abuse related to older women.

Regional NSW accounted for just over half of reports, with the Hunter, Illawarra Shoalhaven, and Central Coast the most common areas.

Adult Children (29 per cent) and paid workers (28 per cent) were the main reporters.

Signs of abuse can include the older person is no longer receiving the services they need to live, they are being prevented from speaking or seeing family, friends or grandchildren, or they cannot spend or access their own money.

Anyone can call the NSW Ageing and Disability Abuse Helpline on 1800 628 221 (Monday to Friday, 9am – 5pm) for information, support or to make a report..
