Singing in a choir isn't just a wonderful way to worship and be involved in an important liturgical ministry - it is also beneficial to your health! Research shows that singing helps to improve breathing, mental alertness, posture, memory, and muscle tension. Group singing in particular helps to forge social bonds and improves our sense of happiness and wellbeing. If you'd like to find out more about singing in our Parish music ministry, please contact the Director of Music via the Parish Office.
