REFLECTION 8TH AUGUST Gospel Mt 6:25-34

Reproduced from God's Word 2021: Daily Reflections, published by St Pauls Publications, Strathfield

Two themes, 'poverty' and 'trust' leap out from the readings for Mary Mackillop's feast day, both befitting Australia's first saint. Poverty in itself is a lack, a harsh suffering, even a death sentence for those like the widow of Zarephath (first reading), as well as many families that Mary Mackillop served in 19th century Australia. From another perspective, poverty can be embraced as a gospel path, as a way to draw close to the poor and to God who loves the poor. This path refers not only to the vocations of people like Mary Mackillop, but to an attitude to life itself: the willingness to trust not in material possessions but in the steadfast love of God (Gospel), the decision to let go of personal security in order to reach out to others (second reading). Mary Mackillop lived life on all these fronts. She knew the bitterness of material impoverishment, she embraced God's love for the poor, and she boldly trusted in God to use her life and gifts in the service of the Gospel.

IMPORTANT - LOCKDOWN EXTENDED BY 4 WEEKS

- #GreaterSydney, #CentralCoast, #BlueMountains, #Wollongong, #Shellharbour

Given low vaccination rates, the current lockdown will remain in place for another four weeks, until Saturday, 28th August at 12:01AM across Greater Sydney including the Central Coast, Blue Mountains, Wollongong and Shellharbour.

This extra time will allow NSW residents to significantly increase the uptake of vaccines in areas most affected by the current outbreak and across the state.

Premier Gladys Berejiklian said higher vaccination rates and following the health orders are the only way to guarantee the further easing of restrictions.

Due to this announcement St Cecilia's Church and St John Fisher Mass Ctr will remain closed until the stay home order is lifted. The Parish office is not open to visitors at this time, you can contact the office on 0424 763 734 or 4352 1011.

Fan the Flame

Towards Plenary Assembly One October 2021

'Set your hearts on his kingdom first, and on his righteousness, and all these other things will be given you as well'
Matthew 6:25-34

The Church signifies and builds up the shared life of God's kingdom. This calls all members of the Church to continual conversion from self-serving egoism to self-giving love and a willingness to "bear each other's burdens" (Gal 6:2).

Sunday Mass 8th August 2021
THE LITURGY OF THE WORD Reproduced from Liturgia

FIRST READING 1 KINGS 17:8-16

And then the word of the Lord came to Elijah, 'Up and go to Zarephath, a Sidonian town, and stay there. I have ordered a widow there to give you food.' So he went off to Sidon. And when he reached the city gate, there was a widow gathering sticks; addressing her he said, 'Please bring a little water in a vessel for me to drink.' She was setting off to bring it when he called after her. 'Please' he said 'bring me a scrap of bread in your hand.' 'As the Lord your God lives,' she replied 'I have no baked bread, but only a handful of meal in a jar and a little oil in a jug; I am just gathering a stick or two to go and prepare this for myself and my son to eat, and then we shall die.' But Elijah said to her, 'Do not be afraid, go ahead and do as you have said; but first make a little scone of it for me and bring it to me, and then make some for yourself and your son. For thus the Lord speaks, the God of Israel: "Jar of meal shall not be spent, jug of oil shall not be emptied, before the day when the Lord sends rain on the face of the earth" The woman went and did as Elijah told her and they ate the food, she, himself and her son. The jar of meal was not spent nor the jug of oil emptied, just as the Lord had foretold through Elijah.

RESPONSORIAL PSALM Ps 63:1-8

R. My soul clings to you; your right hand holds me fast.

O God, you are my God, for you I long; for you my soul is thirsting. My body pines for you like a dry, weary land without water. R.

So I gaze on you in the sanctuary to see your strength and your glory. For your love is better than life, my lips will speak your praise. R.

So I will bless you all my life, in your name I will lift up my hands. My soul shall be filled as with a banquet, my mouth shall praise you with joy. R.

On my bed I remember you. On you I muse through the night for you have been my help; in the shadow of your wings I rejoice. R.

SECOND READING COLOSSIANS 3:12-17

You are God's chosen race, his saints; he loves you and you should be clothed in sincere compassion, in kindness and humility, gentleness and patience. Bear with one another; forgive each other as soon as a quarrel begins. The Lord has forgiven you; now you must do the same. Over all these clothes, to keep them together and complete them, put on love. And may the peace of Christ reign in your hearts, because it is for this that you were called together as parts of one body. Always be thankful.

Let the message of Christ, in all its richness, find a home with you. Teach each other, and advise each other, in all wisdom. With gratitude in your hearts sing psalms and hymns and inspired songs to God; and never say or do anything except in the name of the Lord Jesus, giving thanks to God the Father through him.

GOSPEL ACCLAMATION MATTHEW 27:55

Alleluia, alleluia! Many women were there by the cross, watching from a distance, the same women who had followed Jesus and looked after him. Alleluia!

Gospel Matthew 6:25-34

Jesus said to his disciples: That is why I am telling you not to worry about your life and what you are to eat, nor about your body and how you are to clothe it. Surely life means more than food, and the body more than clothing! Look at the birds in the sky. They do not sow or reap or gather into barns; yet your heavenly Father feeds them. Are you not worth much more than they are? Can any of you, for all his worrying, add one single cubit to his span of life? And why worry about clothing? Think of the flowers growing in the fields; they never have to work or spin; yet I assure you that not even Solomon in all his regalia was robed like one of these.

Now if that is how God clothes the grass in the field which is there today and thrown into the furnace tomorrow, will he not much more look after you, you men of little faith? So do not worry; do not say, "What are we to eat? What are we to drink? How are we to be clothed?" It is the pagans who set their hearts on all these things. Your heavenly Father knows you need them all. Set your hearts on his kingdom first, and on his righteousness, and all these other things will be given you as well. So do not worry about tomorrow; tomorrow will take care of itself. Each day has enough trouble of its own.'

'I am the bread of life. He who comes to me will never be hungry; he who believes in me will never thirst.'

KEEPING THE FAITH PAYS OFF WITH #GREATERCENTRALCOAST GRANT SUCCESS

The Wyong Catholic Parish outreach activities have received a major boost after their success in the July round of the Greater Bank's #GreaterCentralCoast program.

The parish has introduced outreach initiatives targeting the lonely and isolated with seniors and students coming together for a range of activities to help each other and the broader Wyong community.

Wyong Catholic Parish Pastoral Council Chairman, Stephen Johnson, says the activities are especially important during COVID-19 lockdowns and the $2000 boost from the #GreaterCentralCoast program is very welcome.

“We have several charities that we foster, a lot of them for the homeless and those in need where we make up little boxes of goodies for whoever it is - we sometimes pick out specific things.

“We put on breakfast for men and women and there's other groups like book clubs. There's a group of people who go to the courthouse and provide morning tea and maybe have a chat to some of the people who need a hand there. And we also visit the hospital.

“Under normal conditions, we also run programs involving local high school students and older members of the community, allowing the younger ones to learn about the days of old. We usually have a Christmas in July celebration as well,” Stephen said.

Stephen said the extra funding will go a long way to ensuring the outreach programs can continue, with the pandemic impacting parish fundraising and other activities over the past year.

“At times, it's particularly difficult, especially now given the circumstances. While there are some people who can afford to give, we usually raise funds by holding a barbeque at Bunnings, or do raffles and morning teas, but haven't been able to do so.

“Even the volunteering we do like mowing lawns has had to stop, so it's restricted us in a lot of ways.

“We haven't had a mass for a month now, which for many people is more than just going along and saying a prayer. It's a communication network that is ongoing, and it's very important for a lot of people.

“This support from Greater Bank is a wonderful help and I thank them for the opportunity to take part in the community funding program,” Stephen said.

Titans Swim Club Toukley and Lifeline Central Coast both received $500 as the runners-up for the month.

Greater Bank's Central Coast Regional Sales Manager, Josh Swetnam, said the pandemic had made normal operations – including fundraising – very difficult for many groups.

“COVID has had a major impact on all kinds of organisations over the past year and we are delighted to be able to help community groups and charities like the Wyong Catholic Parish as they find new ways of delivering vital support to vulnerable members of the community,” Josh said.

“It's also been great to see the strong response to the #GreaterCentralCoast community funding program as these challenges continue and the need for this kind of support grows.”

The nominees for the August round of the #GreaterCentralCoast community funding program are the Kariong Neighbourhood Centre, Adam (Molch) Hillier Memorial Surf Classic and Claws 'n' Paws Rescue Inc.

The public can cast their vote online at greater.com.au/greatercentralcoast. Voting closes at 5pm on Wednesday, 1 September.

Most Rev Anthony Randazzo Bishop of Broken Bay
Message for BBNeighbourhoods 03 August 2021

My dear brothers and sisters in Christ,

These past five weeks or so, have triggered unending questions from various corners of the community. Some enquiries are helpful, as they raise awareness around the neighbourhood, they highlight what might be of assistance to others as we navigate new spaces and evolving relationships.

There are some in our community who have a gift for these kinds of questions. They seem to observe the needs of others and are able to engage the space positively between the strict letter of the law and the rigid adherence to protocols. They have the gift of seeing the common good and making a positive contribution to making it a reality. There are some in the community who have the gift of being able to identify issues but are challenged by what they see and hear to the point that they become fearful, distrusting, and sceptical.

If we are honest, we might discover that there is a little bit of column A and a little bit of column B in most of us. No one this side of the grave is the full package or has the complete formula for navigating life.

Our 21st century culture sometimes hoodwinks us into thinking otherwise. However, it is not a unique trap for our generation. Time and again, history records that the human family has yielded to the temptation to be all powerful, all knowing, and all accomplished. Time and again human history demonstrates that this mentality and the behaviour that extends from it is false. It can cause leaders to become despotic, which in turn can elicit disorder and anarchy from the people. The common good is quickly replaced by personal wants and desires. The well-being of others might only be considered after the ego is first satisfied.

One of our great challenges at this time is ignorance. This ignorance is fuelled by the lack of general knowledge, the fear of different cultures, the unwillingness to determine historical facts, the inability to use reason in search of a higher good, and the pride of believing that one can go it alone.

It is precisely in moments and circumstances like this that our Christian faith urges us to look beyond ourselves to Christ, the Lord and Saviour of the world. He is the remedy for the ill that plagues our world.

Over these weeks, our Sunday Gospel readings are taken from Chapter Six of the Gospel according to John (John 6) . Biblical scholars commonly refer to chapter six as The Bread of Life Discourse. Saint John reminds us that Jesus gives himself as the bread of life so that the crowds may believe.

I think that the Bread of Life Discourse has come at the right moment for us this year, especially while we are in lockdown under the stay-at-home orders. I am deeply conscious of the pain that many feel because they are not able to receive holy communion, have regular access to the sacraments, or visit our churches for prayer and worship. And yet, in a particular way over the next few weeks, Jesus, the bread of life, is present in a real way through the Gospel discourse.

We do well to notice that the crowds who gathered and followed Jesus had many questions for him, as we often do too. He does not shy away from their inquisitive demands, nor does he ignore ours. Rather, Jesus wins the battle when we ask him questions. Why? Because like the crowds in the Gospel, our questions demonstrate our need for a teacher. We are no different to the crowds in the Gospel. The sick are in need of healing; the sinner is in need of forgiveness; the lonely in need of a friend. And Jesus comes to people according to their need.

When the crowds came looking for him Jesus examined their motives. What was it that they really wanted? They were looking for him, he concluded, not because they had seen the signs, but because they had all the bread they wanted to eat. Their physical hunger had given way to a spiritual hunger, and in this spiritual hunger, Jesus could come to them as the bread of life. The bread of life would only have meaning for them if they were indeed in need of spiritual nourishment, and looking for satisfaction beyond that offered by the material world alone.

The teachings of Jesus will not have their full impact on our lives unless we can see where we are in need. Like the crowd in the Gospel, we can ask questions of the Lord that reveal to him and to ourselves what we long for.

In times of challenge and difficulty, when members of the community are isolated and feel the burden of loneliness, and when friends and loved ones are sick or have died, the Lord of heaven and earth, the teacher of truth, the bread of life is present in our midst to teach us, to feed us, to save us.

So where to this week, my sisters and brothers? Where is God calling us in our lives?

Without a doubt, we will feel unfulfilled and dissatisfied if we wander aimlessly and without purpose. This is not our call. As Catholic Christians, we are called to be people of faith, hope, and love. We are at our best when we feel we have something to offer and can play a part wholeheartedly. We can assess situations we are in and ask ourselves where the Lord is calling us.

How might we use our gifts and our faith to live well this week?

To do something well, we need to be motivated, to see a reason for what we are called to do. No matter how we respond to God's call, we should do so with the words of Saint Paul clearly ringing in our ears: "Your mind must be renewed by a spiritual revolution so that you can put on the new self that has been created in God's way, in the goodness and holiness of the truth." (Ephesians 4:17-24)

With these sentiments in mind, with the gift of faith in our hearts, and with a strong determination to cooperate in the work of God, who provides for the people in their great need (Philippians 4:19) , let us pray once more that what God has created may be restored, and what is restored God might keep safe.

Blessings on your week,
+Anthony
